

Golf Digest

The #1 Golf Publication

golfdigest.com

'HIT IT LONGER AND STRAIGHTER'

by david leadbetter

NICKLAUS HOW I'D CHANGE THE GAME

GUT CHECK!
AMERICA'S 50 TOUGHEST COURSES

8 SHOTS
TO SAVE A ROUND

PITCH IT CLOSE
EVERY TIME

TIGER'S NEW TIPS

MARCH 2007 $3.99 U.S. $5.99 CANADA £3.70 U.K.

THE MOST WIDELY READ GOLF PUBLICATION IN THE WORLD

SEE PAGE 101 FOR THIS TIP

A shirt made of bamboo?

Sure, why not? Golf clothing can be eco-friendly, too. Here are some of the new looks for the spring that make us green with envy

GO COCONUTS

Cutter & Buck's CB DryTec uses Cocona fibers (made of coconut shells) to create a strong fabric that wicks sweat and fights odor, $80.

PLAY IT, AGAIN

Nike Golf uses recycled polyester to make this women's Sphere Dry Thermal pullover, $80.

TREE HUGGER

The bamboo in Fila's Eco polo helps wick sweat and block UV rays. The cotton blend makes it feel just as soft as an all-cotton shirt, $80.

MR STYLE SAYS

GOTTA HAVE IT

Like many golfers, I wear sunglasses on the course, but I also need glasses to read and fill out my scorecard. My solution: I found these foldable reading glasses to tuck into my golf bag so they're always handy while I'm playing. "Scorecard" glasses by Callaway Eyewear, $50.

SEEN ON TOUR

At the Mercedes Championship, a fit Will Mackenzie (left) looked great in his bold J.Lindeberg wardrobe. It reinforces my belief that you should dress like your personality. Also, it's OK to wear short socks with pants (trust me).

by Marty Hackel
Golf Digest's Mr. Style

For your style questions on and off the course, e-mail Mr.Style@golfdigest.com.