A Slice of the Good Life

URBAN SCENE City hotels like the Drisco in San Francisco, above, are club staples.

Tom Axelrod for The New York Times

JOIN THE CLUB Members of destination clubs can choose vacation houses in a variety of places, including one in Aspen, Colo., above, in variations that promise all the comforts of home, without ownership.

BY THE SEA Los Cabos in Mexico, where the Quintess club has the property above, adds "surf 'n' golf" to the destination menu.

ON COURSE A Distinctive Retreats house in Palm Springs Valley in California, left, has a view of the links and a casita for guests.
